FIGHT ON TRACK ENDS IN DEATH

Drunken Men Reel From Each Other's Arms Into Eternity

At six o'clock Saturday morning there was a fatality on the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Railroad company line, one man being instantly killed and another seriously injured near North Chicago Junction.

The name of the dead man is unknown and cannot be learned at present. There is no clue to his identity, and it must await the recovery to consciousness of the injured man, who is J. B. Colbertson, of Milwaukee.

According to investigation the fatality followed a fight between two laborers. There were three implicated in the accident. All had been section hands on the Northwestern railroad at Highland. Their names are not known.

Friday night they hung about the Highland barns of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric company until the first car came north. They were all drunk and carried with them bottles of whiskey.

There intention seems to have been to go to Waukegan, but they found that they were on a Racine car, which goes over the west side line, and took transfers at North Chicago for Waukegan, getting off the car at the North Chicago Junction station.

The car not coming quickly enough for them, they started to walk up the north track. Reaching a point just south of the Practical Gas company, a quarrel broke out among them and two clinched and struggled in each other's arms.

Just at this moment the car came around the curve and up the grade from the south. There is a subway at North Chicago just south of the junction and a deep curve. The car rounded this and speeded up the hill at the usual rate. Just as it neared the two fighting men, who had not been on the tracks, they staggered in each other's grasp directly into the path of the oncoming car.

The car, beyond control because of the short distance and the sudden fall of the fighters, hit both. One had his head completely severed from his body and received frightful mangle. The other was seriously injured.

The third man of the trio, the man who had not mixed in the fight, had meantime fled it is supposed up the track.

Conductor Reeves was in charge of the car and Motorman Roger Moore was at the front end.

Witnesses differ as to whether there was a fog or not.

Coroner Taylor is awaiting the recovery of Colbertson to get his story of the accident that resulted in the death of the unknown.

LAKE FOREST HAS A $50,000 BLAZE

One of Its Most Beautiful Residences Is Burned Monday Morning

One of the most beautiful and most expensive residences in Lake Forest lies in smoldering ruins from which only the blackened stone foundation arise. At an early hour Monday morning the house was burned to the ground, despite the efforts of the Lake Forest fire department.

The residence was owned by A. M. Day, formerly junior member of the firm of Council & Day, of Chicago, but now retired, and was occupied by J. A. Miller, head of the Miller Slate Roofing company of Chicago.

The fire started at about two o'clock in the morning. It was discovered by the coachman who gave the alarm and the inmates of the house hurried out doors, attired only in their night clothes.

The fire department responded promptly and was soon fighting the flames. The water pipes were partially frozen, but despite this the flames were seemingly under control, when, suddenly, however, they burst out again all over the house and it rapidly burned to the ground.

The loss is about $50,000 and is covered by insurance. The only things saved from the house were several pieces of hand carved, inlaid mahogany furniture.

The Miller family were cared for by friends and later left for Chicago.

The residence was one of the most beautiful in Lake Forest. It was on Deerpath avenue near the lake. It will not be rebuilt. The fire was caused by a defective flue in one of the chimneys.

MAY PROVE TO BE A MURDER

Body of Unknown Man With Skull Fractured Picked up at Twin Lakes, Wis

Another murder mystery developed in the western part of Kenosha county, Wis., Saturday, when the remains of an unknown man were picked up along the tracks of the Northwestern railroad just west of the Twin Lakes station. The remains were found by the crew of a way freight train and taken to Twin Lakes station.

It is stated that the condition of the remains of the man indicated that he had been strangled and robbed and left for dead along the track. The man's skull had been fractured and the members of the train crew stated that his pockets had been turned wrong side out.

No description of the remains had been sent in up to 3 o'clock and it is almost impossible to get any details of the matter. It is stated at Twin Lakes that the man was an ice cutter who had been recently brought out from the city, and that his identity was not known among the managers of the companies, but that it might be known to the employment agencies in Chicago.

The man is known to have had a small sum of money when he arrived at Twin Lakes Friday night. His movements during the night are a decided mystery, as it was supposed that he had gone to one of the boarding houses to take up his abode.

The remains were found about a mile west of Twin Lakes station, and it is thought possible that the man was murdered for the small amount of money he carried, and then thrown along the track to make it appear as if he had been struck by a train and killed.

As the milk train came in and made no report of finding the man it is supposed the body was placed there later. None of the trainmen report having struck anyone during the morning.

BOY VICTIM OF TERRIBLE RAIN

Swept in Sullen Flood in Open Ditch and Dies from Effects

A prey to the floods that followed the terrific rains, William Swetor, the 5-year-old son of William Swetor of Waukegan, on Friday fell into an open ditch, was carried two blocks by the current and cruised and broken, was picked up in the underbrush of the ravine at Eighth street by Charles Wember and Charles Gust.

The ditch is a drainage affair that is said to have been put in, in an administration previous to that of Mayor Bullock. While people watched from the windows of neighboring houses, the little boy fell into the ditch, which is a deep and narrow affair, and such was the force of the current that; unable to resist it, he was swept nearly a thousand feet on the bosom of the sullen and raging waters.

People who saw the whole incident followed the body along the stream and tried to stop it with planks and sticks.

Thus the little boy's powerless body was driven between the walls of the ditch until it had passed under one culvert and out on the other side, landing in a ravine on Eighth street. There Messrs Wember and Gust found two men trying to lift it out with boards and angry at the helplessness of the men, jumped into the swollen creek and obtained it after a struggle with the powerful current.

The boy was still alive and breathed faintly. Dr. Gourley was called, but when he arrived the child had breathed his last. Charles Wember witnessed the whole of the incident from a window of a neighboring house, but such was the force of the current that the body was swept away from the wouldbe rescuers as fast as they gathered to intercept.

There are also two little girls in the Swetor family. The mother is prostrated by the accident.

CURE FOR GOAT DYSPEPSIA.

Bill Saunders Suggests a Little Ammonia in the Paint.

"Just as opium affects a Chinaman so does paint act on a goat, and that is the reason why among the scores of goat mascots in the United States navy to-day there is only one that is healthy and fat," said Bill Saunders, a bluejacket of the battleship Ohio to friends who were admiring Buckeye, the vessel's little California goat mascot.

"The first thing a goat does after he gets aboard is to fill himself up with red paint, with a little white lead for dessert. The result is the total disruption of his digestion, and soon what had been a fat, frolicsome little kid becomes a morose, lean, and dyspeptic old goat. Loads of schemes have been tried by the boys to destroy William's appetite for paint, but they never hit it once till we did. What did we do? Well, seel'n as it's you, I'll let you in on the secret."

"When Buckeye was transferred to us from the Chicago of the Pacific fleet, just before we leaves for Manila two years ago, we puts before him a bowl of red paint. But there was something in the mixture besides paint. We had poured half a glass of pure ammonia into the paint."

"The minute the goat saw that paint he went crazy with joy. With one bound, he was on it. Without waiting to inspect the mixture he stuck his nose into it, and then something happened. That goat began to sneeze. For three hours he kept it up, and he never forgot the dose that caused it. From that day to this he has never tasted paint. Ammonia cured him, and that's why he's the only healthy goat in the navy."

HERE IS PROOF POSITIVE.

Dispute as to Whether Animals Think Settled for All Time.

"Do animals think?" was the subject under discussion by the Dewsbury Debating club. Bob Rogers, the dog fancier, said they did.

"I have a dog," he declared, "which acted like a hero once when my house caught fire. My wife and I snatched up as many of the children as we could carry, and flew into the street. Neither of us had time to count them till we got outside, and then, alas! we found there was one missing."

"Before we had time to return to the blazing house we saw Rover peering into the faces of all the rescued children, and then, having discovered that there was one short, he sprang through the flames and reappeared, in less than a minute, with a blanketed bundle, which proved to be our child."

"Marvelous!" exclaimed the listeners.

"Wait a second, my impatient friends," proceeded Rogers. "That dog hadn't finished. In two seconds he was back in the furnace again. We felt sure the noble animal would be cremated, and I remember feeling disappointed that he hadn't been able to count the children correctly, after all, for there was none left in the house to save. However, when he returned he had between his teeth, all safe and sound—what do you think?"

"Give it up!" shouted everybody.

Rogers leaned forward and whispered:

"The fire insurance policy—wrapped in a wet towel!"

Stranger—Er?

Native—Beg pardon. Force of habit. My card, I'm Dr. Fellet.

BEGAN SELLING RAT TRAPS.

A Millionaire Made His First Money In That Way.

Joy Morton, the Chicago millionaire and president of the International Salt company which has extensive salt interests in Hutchinson, Kan., made his first money by selling rat traps, says the Kansas City Star. That was before his father, J. Sterling Morton, became secretary of agriculture in President Cleveland's cabinet, and when he and his brother, Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance company, were boys in Nebraska City, Neb.

Joy Morton and his brother were on their way west the other day and were at luncheon at the Hotel Baltimore when he told the story.

"In those days the patent right was not in such bad repute," he said. "A man came to Nebraska City with a patent rat trap and I purchased the privilege of selling the device in and about the vicinity of my town. The rat trap was a device fearfully and wondrously made and the price was five dollars each. It consisted of a large grab hook on a strong, heavy spring. When a rat nibbled at the bait he tripped the spring and the hook swung over and nailed him. The trap had one fault. It was good for only one rat, for after it had killed one none of his companions would go near it again for a long time, because they sensed the blood on the wire. The eligible customers in my territory conceived that five dollars per rat was too extravagant a plan of extermination and I sold only six traps. It was the first money I ever made."

FOR ONE LONELY VOTER.

Remarkable Election Held in a District in France.

A curious election took place at Les Sables, in the department of the Var, recently, when a single elector drew up the whole list of candidates and was the only one to vote. He naturally voted for his whole list, himself included. The commune contains about 500 inhabitants. Some time ago the municipal council resigned. Elections were held on November 25 last, when only four men came to vote. There was to be a second election last Sunday. The whole day passed and not a solitary voter appeared. A quarter of an hour before the legal limit of time elapsed a benevolent citizen at last appeared, drew up a list of ten candidates, including himself, and voted. A quarter of an hour later the election was declared legally valid, and the other nine candidates were duly notified of their election. They have since declined in a body to be elected by a single vote. The good natured citizen, therefore, who alone voted now constitutes by himself the town council of Les Sables. "What a stranger still is that he may invoke a precedent. In fact, on a previous occasion, another citizen was also the sole voter at an election, and voted for himself, remaining legally in office for ten years. This would indicate that political activity is at a low ebb in the Var, and yet the French prime minister, M. Clemenceau, is senator for that department. Perhaps his energy makes up for the negligence of the rest."

Not the New England Variety.

"O! they're real swell people," said the Chicago man; "an old 'Mayflower' family, I believe."

"You mean their ancestors came over in the Mayflower?" asked the visitor from the East.

"O! no, I mean they made their money in 'Mayflower Hams,' oldest brand o' hams in this section."

THE COAT ON THE ARM.

Showing Importance of Making a "Front" in New York.

It is better to put on a stiff front and keep a stiff upper lip in this town than to have no front at all and bite your lip. It is not always the man who strolls down Broadway, wearing a blind smile with a faded "smile" on the lapel of his coat and with his overcoat carelessly swung across his arm who dines at Del's or who owns a seat on "change or who goes to Europe every year to buy pictures for his gallery. Sometimes a smile covers an empty stomach and an aching heart on the Great White Way. Through the midway of the great commercial artery between Herald Square and Longacre there stroll every day scores of men who carry their overcoats over one arm, regardless of temperature, simply because their "bonnies" do not fit. The other day a portly chap who held a good place last season with a theatrical company strolled down Broadway. "Better slip on your coat," said a friend. "It's pretty cold, old man." "Oh, no, me boy," was the reply; "I'm not afraid of pneumonia. Besides," and his voice took on a confidential tone, "don't you see me boy, I've outgrown this coat by 40 pounds and could not get into it with a shoe horn. I can't afford a new one, but I don't like to have it thought that I don't own a coat, you know. My suit, you see, will stand scrutiny, so I wear a chest protector, and everybody thinks I'm so hardy. It's a great scheme." Then he swung off up Broadway, a picture of mystery.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

LIFE PERIODS OF READING.

Appropriate Mental Pabulum for the Ordinary Individual.

Three authors a year, if well chosen, will be enough for the average business man to read, thinks Henri Mazel, a well-known French sociological writer. "This statement occurs in a book entitled 'What a Man Must Read in His Lifetime.' Excluded from consideration are the daily papers and works required by one's profession or business. From the Boston Traveler we quote the writer's division of a man's life into periods with the appropriate subjects for reading:

"The program is laid out in life periods of seven years each. During the first period from the age of 18 to that of 24, poets and romances should be read; the second, from 25 to 31, should be concentrated to the great poets of other lands, to the classics, to the ancient historians; the third, from 32 to 38, to the great antique poets, to modern politics, to old chroniclers; the fourth, from 39 to 45, to our classic poets and contemporary novelists, the great philosophers and to the authors of memoirs of recent centuries; the fifth, from 46 to 52, to our great thinkers of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, to the ancient philosophers, to recent authors of memoirs; the sixth and last, 53 to 59, to the highest religious authors."—Literary Digest.

One Exception.

Ned—I called upon Miss Outerdown last night, determined to win her. She accepted me all right.

Dick—Good for you! Carried every thing before you, eh?

Ned—Not everything. When I started to catch the last train home I carried her father's bulldog behind me.

A PURE AIR RHAPSODY.

Draft, Not Cold, Is the Thing That Is Harmful.

Keep your thoughts on pure air in the home. Don't be afraid if it is a little cold. None of Feary's party caught cold all the time they were in regions away below zero. Pure undiluted cold is healthful. It is not all the time pleasant, but one can wrap up sufficiently to provide against the discomfort of it. That is easy. That is what they do with consumptives—wrap them up warmly and put them out into the fresh, cold air.

It is not the cold that hurts; it is the draft, which disturbs the temperature of the body and consequently the equilibrium of the circulation, which in turn stuffs up the capillaries, and there you are—sneezing, wheezing, coughing, hocking, grunting and making yourself a public calamity. If one cares to enjoy an interesting scientific research of his own, let him get in a nice little draft, with his side or back to it, and then pay particular attention to what is going on. Pretty soon he will feel a sharp dryness in his throat, a tickling twinge in one nostril, a sort of dingy feeling along one side of the head, and an impudent chill crawling down one leg and gnawing at the ankle. Then he gets up with a mean cold, which, by gentle care of himself, will last him three days.

Therefore, flood your home with fresh air, cold or hot, better cold, but keep an eye on that draft; it is always just on the outside, waiting to catch you unawares; it is a mean conspiracy and usually aims at nice, thoughtless people. A draft is a worse enemy to a happy, healthy life than all the mince pie, shrimp salad, hog's head cheese, and Welsh rarebit that one can eat at 12 o'clock at night. So, please do not mix your cold with a draft.—Ohio State Journal.

DEATH OF PRINCE IMPERIAL.

Zulus Paid Tribute to Bravery of Louis Napoleon.

How Prince Louis Napoleon was killed by the Zulus June 1, 1879, is told graphically in the book by Sir Evelyn Wood, who took part in that war. The little party which the prince accompanied was surprised and attacked. Sir Evelyn writes: "The Zulus in pursuit ran first after the two white soldiers who were on the flanks, three or four men, headed by Labanga, followed the prince. His horse had jumped just as he was mounting, and his sword fell out of its scabbard. He was very active, and was vaulting on his horse in motion when the waller on the front of the saddle broke away, and he fell to the ground, being at this time only 80 yards behind the (British) fugitives. There were seven men who actually fought the prince. When Langalebe, pursuing the fugitives, first saw Labanga, he was running away from the prince, who was rushing at him. Labanga, crouching in the grass, threw an assegai at him. The first assegai struck in the prince's thigh, and, withdrawing it from the wound, he kept his foot at bay for some minutes. In the native's words: 'He fought like lion; he fired two shots, but without effect; and I threw an assegai at him which struck him as I said at the time, but I always allowed Labanga's claim to have killed him, for his assegai hit the prince in the left shoulder, a mortal wound.'

LOCAL OPTION BEFORE SENATE

Plan to Give Counties Quarter of the Fees Arouses Prohibitionists

A surprise was sprung on the anti-saloon forces Tuesday at Springfield in the shape of a local option bill containing a clause to the effect that one-fourth of all revenues derived from dramshop licenses shall go to the county treasuries. The measure, which was introduced by Senator Potter of Marion, is a replica of the bill that was defeated two years ago except for the revenue provision, which is tacked on as a rider.

At first glance the cold water men construed the rider as a bit of seasoning to make the local option act a trifle more palatable to the liquor interests, but after the sponsor of the bill had avowed that in introducing the measure he was not acting either for rum or reform, but was merely following his personal views, the temperance workers decided that no plot was afoot to injure the cause.

The Anti-Saloon League, however, will not be content with the Potter bill, and within a few days the measure that has been drafted by the organization will be sent to both houses.

Friends of local option are filling the air with guesses as to what the rider means. They point out that it may be advantageous to the liquor men from the fact that the lawmakers from Chicago could hardly be expected to support a bill that would force Chicago to turn over to the county approximately $1,750,000 of the $7,000,000 the city collects annually for saloon licenses. This might keep the bill from passing, which would be an excellent thing from the point of view of the rum sellers.

In case the bill did manage to pass with the rider still attached, the liquor dealers would still find cause for consolation. In applying the county provision of the original bill, it is pointed out, the voters for "dry" territory would come in large measure from county voters who under the old bill would not be affected financially by the presence or absence of dramshops in the country. If the rider goes through, however, the county treasurer gets a dividend from the saloon licenses, and the fact that the country taxpayer would thus profit from the gin mill revenue might possibly make him less prone to vote for a prohibition district in his county.

One thing is certain, and that is, the legislature this year will be compelled to either vote a local option bill or make a $1,000,000 a state law.

Valuable Chairs.

The value of chairs is strictly relative. Enormous prices have been paid for chairs in recent years, notably the $100,000 for a set of half a dozen Louis XIV. chairs upholstered in Gobelin tapestry, originally made for Marie Antoinette. Even this price, however, was exceeded by sums paid for three of the Hamilton palace chairs, one of which brought $3,000. A most valuable and historical interesting suite of furniture is that which, more than a century ago, was presented by Warren Hastings to Tippeco Sahib, and which was purchased at the Londerborough sale for $5,000. The suite consisted of a card table and sofa, two small cabinets and four arm chairs, all of solid ivory most exquisitely carved. But probably the most costly chair in the world is one of the treasures of the Shah of Persia. It is of solid gold, thickly encrusted with diamonds, rubies, pearls and sapphires. Its value is estimated to be $2,500,000.

Is Marriage a Failure?

Marple, the colored maid, had been neglecting her work shamefully. Her mistress remonstrated, but in vain. Finally Marple's carelessness called forth a sharp rebuke. To soften the sting the mistress added:

"Marple, I think you must be in love."

Marple, who was resting ruminatively on her broom handle, drew herself up and replied with great dignity:

"Deed, ma'am, I's a married 'oman!"—Judge.

Bismarck's Eightieth Birthday.

When Prince Bismarck was 80 years old he received an immense number of congratulatory birthday messages by wire and post. The staff of the tiny postoffice at Friedrichsruh was obliged to 30 officials for the birthday week, while the telegraphers had at their disposal five direct wires to Hamburg and four to Berlin. From March 25 to April 1 the number of telegrams received gradually rose from 102 to 4,122, with 128,268 words. During the whole period close upon 12,000 telegrams, aggregating nearly half a million words, were received and forwarded. In the same period there arrived 879 ordinary parcels, 225 registered parcels, 995 registered letters and about 450,000 ordinary letters and book-post consignments. The only telegrams to which immediate answer was necessary were those from royal ties. The only other so honored was one from school children in England.

Difference in the Races.

The Frenchman of the middle class sacrifices everything in order to obtain for his children some official position or other, a mean one, perhaps, but a sure one, leading after 30 years of penury to a position verging on destitution. This is one aspect of the decay of the French race. It is easy to understand that two races are not evenly armed for the struggle for life if one be made up of aspirants to official positions and the other of individuals possessing initiative, daring and energy. For this reason do Latin races decline, while Anglo-Saxon races grow and multiply.—Paris Siecle.

BIG FOUR TRAIN BLOWN TO PIECES

CAR OF POWDER EXPLODES AND TWENTY-EIGHT PERSONS ARE KILLED.

Horrible Accident at Sandford, Ind.—
Victims Torn to Bits or Cremated in the Wreckage—Thirteen Perish in Collision at Fowler.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 21.—Twenty-eight charred, broken and mutilated bodies have been taken from the smoldering ruins of the passenger train No. 8 on the Big Four railroad which was destroyed by the explosion of a car-load of powder as it passed a freight train at Sandford, Ind., nine miles west of here, Saturday night. The number of injured will total at least 25.

The cause of the disaster has not been fully explained. The result was terrible. The shock was felt for 30 miles, many believing it an earthquake.

Entire Train Destroyed.
The three coaches of the passenger train were filled. The entire train, including the engine, was blown from the track, the coaches demolished, the engine hurled 50 feet and the passengers either blown to pieces, consumed by fire or rescued in a more or less injured condition.

At least 30 injured, some fatally, are at the hospitals in Terre Haute and Paris, Ill. Several are also being cared for at Sandford.

The full extent of the disaster was revealed at daylight Sunday morning, but the death list will not be complete until the workmen now clearing the debris have finished their task.

The dead, so far as known, are: William Thompson, Sandford, Ind.; J. W. Southerland, Paris, Ill.; John Franklin, Mattoon, Ill. (brakeman on No. 3); A. D. Hector, farmer, address unknown; Charles Gossnell, Paris, Ill.; Noah Wolfe, Sandford, Ind.; A. A. Plicks, Sandford, Ind.; Frank Felder, Bellefontaine, O.; John A. Bowen, Ashmore, Ill.; Mrs. Josiah Wolfe, Sandford, Ind., and her two children; J. W. Southcott, express clerk; A. Kuykendall, fireman, Peoria division, Vandalia, Ind.; Clark Steele, Sandford, Ind.; Paul Glover, Indianapolis, Ind.; James Fenton, Sandford, Ind.; J. W. S. Miller, Sandford, Ind.; ten unidentified bodies.

Missing and believed to have been burned to death: Mrs. Bud Wolfe, Sandford, Ind.; two daughters of Mrs. Wolfe, aged eight and six years, respectively.

Theories of the Cause.
According to trainmen of the freight, the explosion of the powder was caused by the concussion made by the passing passenger train, which was slowing down for the station at Sandford. Another theory is that gas escaping from an oil pipe line nearby entered the car containing the powder and a spark from the passing engine ignited the gas.

The belief was expressed by one or two persons that the disaster was due to the act of a tramp or an intoxicated man who may have fired a shot into the car.

Not a home in Sandford escaped. Windows were shattered, dishes and furniture broken, and in some instances doors were torn from their hinges.

The train was an accommodation passenger, running from Indianapolis to Mattoon, Ill., and was destroyed at 8:50 p. m. It was a dark night and heavy rains had converted the streets and tracks at Sandford into a sea of mud and water. As the passenger engine went by the powder car of the freight train standing on an adjoining track the explosion came.

Noble Work of Citizens.
By the light of the burning coaches the people of Sandford did their best for the injured. The residents of the village threw open their homes to the injured and worked heroically all night.

Under the wreckage of the baggage car was found the trunk of a man which had lost all human form. The only means of identification were a life-guard's belt and tools about the waist. Four frightfully mutilated bodies were found in the woods several hundred feet from the tracks. Engineer Welch and Fireman Jarred of Mattoon, Ill., who were in charge of the engine on the passenger train, were thrown into the air, hurled a distance of nearly 100 feet and fell in a muddy field.

The wreckage was cleared up Sunday evening and traffic was resumed over the road.

Thirteen Killed at Fowler.
Fowler, Ind., Jan. 21.—A most horrible railroad wreck occurred on the Big Four railway a quarter of a mile east of this station at 2:15 Saturday morning. Queen City special No. 38, which left Chicago at 11:30 Friday night, going at the speed of 50 miles an hour, crashed head-on into a west-bound freight and at least 13 lives were sacrificed. The tender of No. 38 in front of the day combination coach crashed into it and reduced it to splinters. The coach caught fire and a high wind from the southwest fanned the flames. Inside of half an hour many bodies were cremated.

Three Trainmen Killed.
Desoto, Kan., Jan. 21.—The locomotive drawing eastbound Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe train No. 36 exploded on a bridge near here Saturday. The engineer, fireman and brakeman were killed.

TERRIBLE TO RECALL.

Five Weeks in Bed With Intensely Painful Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Mary Wagner, of 1367 Kossuth avenue, Bridgeport, Conn., says: "I was so weakened and generally run down

with kidney disease that for a long time I could not do my work
and was five weeks in bed.
There was continual bearing down pain, terrible backaches, headaches and
at times dizzy spells when everything was a blur before me. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and painful, and there was considerable sediment and odor. I don't know what I would have done but for Doan's Kidney Pills. I could see an improvement from the first box, and five boxes brought a final cure."

Life Without Mind.
The possibility of life without mind, while not subject to positive proof, is a theory that has gained considerable strength recently through its advocacy by Dr. L. Laloy, librarian of the Academy of Sciences, Paris. He believes that many of the smaller living organisms, such as insects, are mere moving machines, having no more intelligence than may be ascribed to plants. He refers to the well known fact that insects are attracted by light, often to their own destruction, and ascribes it to the same cause that inclines the plant to grow toward the light.

Thoroughly Reliable.
If ever there was a reliable and safe remedy it is that old and famous porous plaster—Allcock's. It has been in use for sixty years, and is as popular to-day as ever, and we doubt if there is a civilized community on the face of the globe where this wonderful pain reliever cannot be found. In the selection of the ingredients and in their manufacture the greatest care is taken to keep each plaster up to the highest standard of excellence, and so pure and simple are the ingredients that even a child can use them.

Allcock's are the original and genuine porous plasters and are sold by Druggists all over the world.

Slightly Mixed.
A traveling salesman died suddenly in Pittsburg, Pa., and some of his friends telegraphed the undertaker an order to make a large wreath.
Investigation showed that the telegram ordering the wreath read as follows:
"Rest in peace, on both sides of the ribbon; if there should be room:
'We shall meet in heaven.'"
The undertaker was out of town, and the new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide, and it bore
the inscription:
"Rest in peace on both sides, and if there is room we shall meet in heaven."

Rajah's Unique Conveyance.
While amphibious vehicles are not in themselves a novelty, it is safe to declare the combination conveyance just built in England for an Indian maharajah as absolutely unique. The body, shaped like a boat and painted in rainbow hues in accordance with eastern ideas of color, is hung upon a four-wheeled skeleton carriage.
While intended by its owner as a state carriage, it may be used on occasions as a state boat, as the body can be unslung and converted into an electric launch. The skeleton carriage is about 15 feet long and is provided with four rubber-tired wheels. There is a seat for a driver and room for four in the boat-shaped coach. The total weight of the outfit is less than one ton.

WHITE BREAD
Makes Trouble for People with Weak Intestinal Digestion.

A lady in a Wis. town employed a physician who instructed her not to eat white bread for two years. She tells the details of her sickness and she certainly was a sick woman.

"In the year 1887 I gave out from overwork, and until 1901 I remained an invalid in bed a great part of the time. Had different doctors but nothing seemed to help. I suffered from cerebro-spinal congestion, female trouble and serious stomach and bowel trouble. My husband called a new doctor and after having gone without any food for 10 days the doctor ordered Grape-Nuts for me. I could eat the new food from the very first mouthful. The doctor kept me on Grape-Nuts and the only medicine was a little glycerine to heal the alimentary canal.

"When I was up again doctor told me to eat Grape-Nuts twice a day and no white bread for two years. I got well in good time and have gained in strength so I can do my own work again.

"My brain has been helped so much,
and I know that the Grape-Nuts food did this, too. I found I had been made ill because I was not fed right, that is I did not properly digest white bread and some other food I tried to live on.

"I have never been without Grape-
Nuts food since and eat it every day.
You may publish this letter if you like so it will help someone else." Name

Japanese Hot Baths.
In Japan hot baths are used at a temperature of 104 degrees. Fahrheit. Immediately they leave the bathers plunge into perfectly cold water. A European doctor who has spent many years in Tokio declares that, after a bath of this heat and the subsequent douche, he used to feel warm all day in the coldest winter weather, while in summer the bath had the exactly contrary effect, and was most cooling and refreshing.

MISS JULIE FLORENCE WALSH

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

made from native roots and herbs. No other medicine in the country has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Miss J. F. Walsh, of 228 W. 86th St., New York City, writes: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been of inestimable value in restoring my health. I suffered from female illness which caused dreadful headaches, dizziness, and dull pains in my back, but your medicine soon brought about a change in my general condition, built me up and made me perfectly well."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints, such as Backache, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and organic diseases. It is invaluable in preparing for child-birth and during the Change of Life. It cures Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, and invigorates the whole system.

The rains that prevailed last week were terrific all over the county, and farm lands in some places are several inches under water. The subway at Lake Bluff had six inches of water on its tracks and the cars shut off power and literally plowed through it in order to save their motors from burning out.

On Thursday of last week occurred the death of grandpa Quedenfeldt, at the home of his son Gus, west of Lake Villa. He had reached the age of eighty-three years, and had been very feeble for a long time. The direct cause of his death was paralysis. The funeral was held at the Lake Villa M. E. church on Saturday, Rev. C. L. Hay of Maywood officiating. The interment was in the Angola cemetery.

At about seven o'clock Sunday night while the wind demon held Lake County in its grip and an icy chill crept up and down the spines of the people, fire took possession of the home of John Thomas at Gurnee, and on account of the gale and the lack of fire fighting apparatus the house was entirely consumed. The building was worth about $2,000.

The Hein-Orstein Company of Waukegan, has leased for a term of five years with the privilege of five years renewal, the premises at Main and Wisconsin streets in Kenosha Wisconsin, and will establish another Hein-Orstein Company store. The corner is admitted by Kenosha people to be the best in the city, being at the intersection of the two main streets, and a brilliant future in business is prophesied for the enterprising Waukegan men who will head the store. The store will open next Saturday, Messrs Hein and Orstein taking turns in operating it.

How to Cure Chillsblains.

"To enjoy freedom from chillsblains," writes John Kemp, "East Otisfield, Me., I apply Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Have also used it for salt rheum with excellent results. Guaranteed to cure fever sores, indolent ulcers, piles, burns, wounds, frost bites and skin diseases. 25 cents at J. H. Swan's drug store."

Serious Damage.

"I'm glad to see you didn't laugh at that poor old man when he fell down," said the stranger.

"That's my gran'paw," the little boy howled. "O! boo! boo!"

"Don't cry, boy. There's nothing serious."

"O! wow! He sat down on my train o' cars, an' I'll bet he busted 'em."

For that Dandruff

There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is a regular scalp-medicine. It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease. The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. The dandruff disappears, had to disappear. A healthy scalp means a great deal to you—healthy hair, no dandruff, no pimples, no eruptions.

ART OF JAPANESE

PORCELAIN WARE WHICH IS EXQUISITE IN WORKMANSHIP.

Finest Specimens Made in the Province of Kaga—Lacquer Ware Which Surpasses Anything of Kind in World.

The president in his message has referred to the skill of Japanese workmen, and it is not without point whether one looks in the realm of art or in the commonplace trades. This comment brought out in connection with the recent troubles in San Francisco, where Japanese have been excluded from schools attended by white children, has served to direct new interest towards things Japanese, and in some phases of art work the Japanese undoubtedly do excel the rest of the world. The finest period of Japanese art as applied to porcelain was that of the fourteenth to the seventeenth centuries, and although since that time many fine specimens have been produced, they are mainly copied in design and treatment from the period above referred to, and those which are of entirely modern conception can in no way bear comparison with the earlier specimens.

Amongst the varieties of Japanese porcelain—most familiar to collectors is that generally known as Kaga, the first specimens of which were made in the province of Kaga towards the close of the seventeenth century. The factories were erected at Kutani, or the Seven Valleys, where the clay was discovered from which the porcelain was manufactured. The body is of a fine texture well decorated, red and gold being the predominating colors, and on a really good sample of this ware the work is probably finer than that of any other kind of porcelain manufactured by the Japanese.

Specimens, however, are frequently met with in which, whilst the decoration is all that can be desired, the porcelain is not quite up to the high standard of the famous Kutani factories, a matter readily understood when it is explained that, owing to the demand created for this ware, numerous specimens were manufactured in neighboring provinces and sent to Kutani to be decorated. Here again unfortunately, as in other well known manufactures of porcelain and faience the growing demand for specimens at popular prices has caused large factories to be opened elsewhere to supply the same. They are, however, mostly crude specimens, and except in the matter of coloring, which is fairly closely followed, they in no way bear comparison with even inferior specimens of the art they are supposed to represent. At one time these were to be obtained chiefly at the fancy repositories and drapery establishments, but of recent years, unfortunately, unscrupulous curio dealers have disposed of large quantities, the purchaser fondly believing that he has at last obtained a genuine specimen.

Another, and one of the earliest arts of the Japanese, is lacquer ware, and in this they far surpass all other races, excepting perhaps the Chinese. Great taste is displayed in the designs, which have the unconventional characteristics so dear to the Japanese, and also in the coloring. Painted birds and flowers are frequently incorporated, whilst gold powder and mother of pearl are also used to enrich articles destined for ornamental purpose only. Successive coats of varnish are then given until the whole surface is practically level, after which the surface is rubbed down and carefully polished. Needless to say the trays sold in this country with which we are mostly familiar, must not be taken as fair specimens of Japanese lacquer work, being made for a cheap market and for domestic use, yet even here one occasionally comes across specimens which are undoubtedly artistic, and which, when in constant use, prove very durable.

Another form of lacquer work in favor amongst this interesting race is the decoration of a panel or plaque with raised ornamentations of ivory or pearl. Here the background is generally a highly polished surface, mostly black and occasionally dark brown, either of which helps to throw up with fine effect the light shades of the ivory and pearl with which the article is embellished.

HIS PRIDE WAS TOUCHED.

Faddist Could Not Bear Thought That Others Should Think Him Poor.

A New York uptown man made up his mind that he would not wear an overcoat one winter for health's sake, says the Sun. He sent his despatch but comfortable last winter's coat to his wife's brother in Connecticut. Then a letter and an express package from the New England village went far toward making him understand how the world at large viewed his hygienic principles.

"I am returning by express," his sister-in-law wrote, "the overcoat which you so kindly sent to Bob. We feel that it is barefaced robbery to keep it. Two of our neighbors were in New York last week and they saw you out in the coldest weather wearing a little sack coat and actually running to keep warm. Ever since they told Bob that, he has felt like a thief. We appreciate the generous spirit that prompted you to rob yourself to help us, but this is too great a sacrifice. We cannot accept it, therefore we return the coat."

The uptown man honored that letter with a fit of profound meditation. "Well, I'll swear," he said, "they seem to think I can't afford an overcoat." "Of course," returned his wife. "That is what everybody thinks."

Then the man bought two overcoats.

"How to Avoid Appendicitis"

Do you have sick headaches?
Do you feel distressed after eating?
Do you have burning sensation in stomach?

Are you troubled with bad blood?
Are you troubled with weak heart?
Are you troubled with dyspepsia?
Are you troubled with constipation?

If so take Gastrozone; it will cure you or you get your money back. Gastrozone prevents you from having appendicitis, because it is antiseptic. Sold and guaranteed by J. H. Swan.

New Style of Paper.

"Right in the middle of a story, my paper gave out," said a newspaper woman, "and I sent in haste to the local stationer's around the corner. I wrote a note as follows: 'Please send a pad of yellow paper, 8x10, unlined preferable.'"

The maid brought back the pad, on the wrapping of which the proprietor had written: "Hope this will do. It is yellow and unlined, but we are all out of preferable."

Reasons for Total Abstinence.

Young John D. Rockefeller told his young men's bible class the other evening that he believed in total abstinence for two reasons. First, because both his father and mother were strictly temperate; secondly, his mature judgment was that, while there might be no harm in one glass, that one glass might lead to another. Therefore, one glass was too many.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, causes nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juice of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says:— "I was troubled with sour stomach for two years. Kodol cured me and we are now well."

Kodol Digests What You Eat.

Bottles only. Relieves indigestion, sour stomach, belching of gas, etc.

LATE FOREIGN DISPATCHES

Interesting Items of News Gathered from All Parts of the Globe and Outlined in the Briefest Manner Possible.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS.

Representative De Armond, of Missouri, introduced a bill in the house authorizing the president to retire any judge of the United States when he thinks the retirement of such a judge would promote the public welfare, and giving the president power, by and with the advice of the senate, to fill the vacancy thus created.

The house of representatives voted to raise the salaries of congressmen to $7,500 a year.

Congress will be asked by President Roosevelt to give the interstate commerce commission increased powers to enable that body to deal with such emergencies as that now existing with regard to the car shortage question.

Senator Blackburn proposed an amendment to the Foraker resolution on the Brownsville affair, which the Republican senators agreed to vote down.

Senator Crane lined up the Republican senators and was confident nearly all of them would vote against the Foraker amendment to Foraker's resolution.

THE JAMAICA DISASTER.

An earthquake, followed by fire, partly destroyed Kingston, a city of 100,000 inhabitants, and capital of the island of Jamaica. Many persons were killed and injured, among the dead, according to report, being Sir James Ferguson and 40 soldiers. Many American and English tourists are in Jamaica, the latter including a party of distinguished statesmen and agricultural experts. Direct communication with Kingston was cut off.

Direct dispatches from Kingston say that thousands of persons were killed by the earthquake and the place is sinking, two lighthouses have disappeared and the city is believed to be slipping into the sea. Famine and pestilence threaten the survivors and the need of help is urgent. The house of representatives passed an emergency relief bill.

Rear Admiral Evans landed a force of American marines at Kingston and they plucked the ruined city. The cable agent cabled that no Americans had been reported killed or injured.

Rear Admiral Davis' mission of mercy to stricken Kingston came to an abrupt and painful conclusion in consequence of Gov. Swettenham's objection to the presence of American sailors engaged in the work of clearing the streets, guarding property and succoring the wounded and sick, culminating in a sarcastic and insulting letter to the admiral peremptorily requesting him to reembark all parties which had been landed. Admiral Davis promptly sailed away with his three vessels.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Colder weather and a gale of wind increased the suffering of those thousands who had been made homeless by the flood in Ohio, and a number of buildings that had been weakened by the water went down before the wind.

BRING GOOD HEALTH

Dr. William's Pink Pills, Used After the Grip, Arrest Fatal Decline and Rebuild the System.

Any bodily weakness caused by a deficiency in the blood can be cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because these pills actually make new blood. After attacks of the grip the blood is generally run down and the patient continues to decline.

"About three years ago," says Mrs. Jennie Cowan, of 718 N. Henry Street, West Bay City, Mich., "I caught a severe cold, which ran into the grip. I was confined to my bed for two weeks. At the end of that time I was able to be about, but was completely run down. I was so weak I could hardly stand, my cheeks had no color and I felt faint. My heart would flutter and it was difficult for me to breathe at times. Neuralgia settled in the back of my head and stomach and I suffered from rheumatism in my shoulders.

"I had the care of the best doctor in town but became no better until a friend told me one day how she had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to try them. I soon felt better and continued using them until I was entirely cured. They built me up again to perfect health and I use them now whenever I feel at all sick and they always help me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable in such cases, as well as in other blood diseases, because they not only drive off the germs of the disease but build up the system. The pills have cured anemia, rheumatism, after-effects of fevers, neuralgia, and many other severe disorders.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Developing the Sudan.

There is talk in England of the proposed development of the natural resources of the Sudan through scientific exploration. Immense forests line the banks of the Blue Nile along its upper reaches, extending to the Abyssinian frontier. The chony tree is met with along that river and also near the Sobat. Along the White Nile the india rubber creeper, a valuable source of rubber, abounds. There are large forests in the Bah-el-Ghazal province and gold has been mined in some of the mountains. Search will be made for fuel.

GALE ADDS TO FLOOD

MANY BUILDINGS IN CINCINNATI ARE BLOWN DOWN.

RIVER TO RISE FURTHER

Great Suffering in Other Towns of the Valley—Business Section of Portsmouth Under Water.

Cincinnati.—Colder weather and a gale of wind increased the suffering of those thousands who had been made homeless by the flood in Ohio, and a number of buildings that had been weakened by the water went down before the wind Saturday night and Sunday. The first and probably most serious loss by collapsing of walls was caused during the night when several floors in the buildings on Walnut street occupied by the A. Janssen Wholesale Grocery company and the Ohio Butterine company fell with a crash. Both buildings were heavily loaded with merchandise in the upper stories. The loss cannot yet be estimated, but will be very heavy.

The area of flooded section increased considerably Sunday. For several hours the river was stationary at 64.8 feet, but the weather bureau officials could find only temporary consolation in this fact, announcing during the afternoon that reports indicated that the river here would go up to at least 66 and perhaps 67 feet within the next 36 hours.

The rise cut off approach to the foot bridges across the Ohio, isolating most of the people on the Kentucky side of the river. Some of those in Covington were still able to cross the railroad bridges, but Newport was almost wholly cut off and sections of Covington, Bellvue, Ludlow and Bromley were suffering from the back waters.

Systematic efforts to relieve the sufferers, who are estimated at nearly 20,000 in Cincinnati and the nearby cities on both sides of the river, were under way all day, the special appropriation by the city council being supplemented by special funds to which all the churches contributed. There will be a big theatrical benefit for the sufferers.

Reports from up the river varied little from those of Saturday night. The lower end of Parkersburg was under water and the railroads were in trouble. Almost the entire business section of Portsmouth was under water and the entire north and west end flood-bound, while 50,000 people driven from their homes were sheltered in schools and churches, and the city was without gas or water service.

At Madison, Ind., several hundred people have been driven from their homes by the water which has gradually encroached on the business and residence section. While the low-lying sections of Huntington, W. Va., are under water, it is not believed that the damage there will be very heavy. Many bridges in that section have been carried away.

TERRIFIC GALE AT BUFFALO.

Five Big Lake Liners Driven Aground—$1,500,000 Damage Done.

Buffalo, N. Y.—A terrific gale, which blew 90 miles an hour at times, has swept this city for 18 hours and has done $1,500,000 damage to shipping.

Five large lake liners, wintered just inside the breakwater wall, were torn loose from their moorings and driven aground. The gale still rages and no aid can be given the endangered vessels. They are believed to be resting on soft bottom and unless the gale becomes worse, will probably not suffer more damage.

For hours the gale swept the water front, tearing everything that stood in its path. Docks and wharves were wrecked and carried away; craft, broken from their moorings, smashed against bridges, doing serious damage. Smokestacks and buildings of lighter construction were blown down like paper boxes, but so far no casualties have been reported.

Big Fire at Youngstown, O.

Youngstown, O.—Fire thought to have been caused by the crossing of electric wires in the basement of the building occupied by the H. L. McElroy company, furniture dealers on West Federal street, completely destroyed that building and the adjoining one occupied by J. N. Ewers Sons company, dry goods dealers, Sunday. The Eastman hotel, facing on Commerce street, which opened for business a few days ago, was entirely destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $700,000, with insurance about two-thirds.

Indians Burn to Death in Jail.

Pendleton, Ore.—Five Indians were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the jail at the Umatilla Indian reservation agency early Sunday.

Boathouse Burns, One Dead.

Medford, Mass.—Nicholas Sandstone, 27 years old, a tanner of North Woburn, was burned to death, and Otto Metzner was probably fatally burned in a fire that destroyed the boathouse of the Medford Boat club.

Great Cressoting Plant Burns.

Norfolk, Va.—Fire consumed the American Cressoting works here Sunday night. One man lost his life. A large force of sailors and marines from the navy yard guarded the burning plant, which covered eight acres.

Shakespeare as Novel Hero.

William Shakespeare is the hero of a new and striking novel by the Danish woman writer Sophus Banditz. Moreover, British and American readers will probably soon have a chance to read this tale, for Queen Alexandra, who recently read it in the original, was so much impressed by it that she advised the authoress to have it translated into English. This translation is now proceeding and the English version is to be dedicated to the queen, who is herself a Dane.

AWFUL EFFECT OF ECZEMA.

Covered with Yellow Sores—Grew Worse—Parents Discouraged—Cuticura Drove Sores Away.

"Our little girl, one year and a half old, was taken with eczema or that was what the doctor called it. We called in the family doctor, and he gave some tablets and said she would be all right in a few days. The eczema grew worse and we called in doctor No. 2. He said she was teething, as soon as the teeth were through she would be all right. But she still grew worse. Doctor No. 3 said it was eczema. By this time she was nothing but a yellow, greenish sore. Well, he said he could help her, so we let him try it about a week. One morning we discovered a little yellow pimple on one of her eyes. Of course we phoned for doctor No. 3. He came over and looked her over, and said that he could not do anything more for her, that we had better take her to some eye specialist, since it was an ulcer. So we went to Oswego to doctor No. 4, and he said the eyesight was gone, but that he could help it. We thought we would try doctor No. 5. Well, that proved the same, only he charged $10 more than doctor No. 4. We were nearly discouraged. I saw one of the Cuticura advertisements in the paper and thought we would try the Cuticura Treatment, so I went and purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies, which cost me $1, and in three days our daughter, who had been sick about eight months, showed improvement, and in one week her sores had disappeared. Of course I could not restore the eyesight, but if we had used Cuticura in time I am confident that it would have saved the eye. We think there is no remedy so good for any skin trouble or impurity of the blood as Cuticura. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abbott, R. F. D. No. 9, Fulton, Oregon Co., N. Y., August 17, 1906."

NEIGHBORING TOWNS.

LAKE VILLA, ILL.

Chas Harbaugh was a Chicago visitor Wednesday.

L. W. Rowling was a Chicago visitor one day last week.

Will VanPatten was a business visitor in Chicago on Wednesday.

Dr. Morell was a business visitor in Chicago the fore part of the week.

James Kerr is having a bargain sale on lap robes and horse-blankets this week.

During the severe wind storm on Sunday the flag staff in the city park was blown down.

Henry Potter is now the express agent, and the express office for the present will be at the depot.

Miss Vanhelsburg the trained nurse who has been attending Bertha Harbaugh returned to the city Wednesday.

Miss Bertha Harbaugh has so far recovered from her illness as to be able to be up and about and expects to return to her school duties soon.

The woodmen and families and Royal Neighbors and families are invited to attend the installation of officers, Tuesday evening, January 29, in Hamlin's hall. Each lady is requested to bring box with lunch for two.

Mat Sugar who has taken the agency for a new gasoline lighting system is having splendid success with the same. Last Tuesday he canvassed Antioch and sold to almost all the business houses in that town. Mat certainly has a beautiful light both for residence or store and it is the best we have yet seen. Many people say it surpasses the Pitner system.

The Lake Villa euchre club met with Mr. and Mrs. John Nadr on Tuesday evening Jan. 15. Euchre was indulged in until about eleven o'clock after which a bountiful supper was served. The prize winners were first ladie's prize, Mrs. Will Hucker; second ladie's prize, Mrs. Earl Rushmore; first gentleman's prize, Mr. John Nadr; second gentleman's prize, Mr. Fred Hamlin. We are inclined to be lenient with the booty winners so will refrain from naming them.

The Lake Villa Pleasure Club entertained their friends at the Club room in Sugar's hall on Thursday evening. Euchre was indulged in until 11:30 o'clock, after which the evening closed with dancing. Fifty guests were present and all enjoyed a good time. The prize winners were:

first ladie's, Mr. Daily (noting as lady); second ladies, Mrs. Will Hucker; first gentlemen's prize, Mr. Harry Miller; second gentlemen's Mr. Carl Miller. As we know a man who got hurt for calling another a booby, we will not name them.

GRAYSLAKE, ILL.

Mr. Jos. Turner is still confined to the house with rheumatism.

Louie Wicks is expected home from the West side hospital this week.

Mrs. Baillard is entertaining her sister and other relatives from Chicago.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Carfield is on the gain from her recent illness.

Mrs. Maud Savage was able to return to her duties at Mr. Brewer's the latter part of last week.

Mrs. G. E. Strang and Mrs. W. B. Higley spent Monday and Tuesday with relatives in Waukegan.

Mr. Yannie moved his family to Chicago the last of the week. Dr. Clark has moved his family into the house vacated by Mr. Yannie.

Mizzpah Camp R. N. A. held a joint installation with the Woodmen on Tuesday evening of this week. A large crowd was present and all enjoyed a good time.

There will be a series of meetings held at the Congregational church on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings. These meetings will begin at 7:30 each evening. Rev. Welch of the M. E. church will assist Rev. Walton. All are cordially invited to attend.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting, nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, and safe syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure is for croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. Its for croup that's all. Sold by all dealers.

Had to Do It.

"Mrs. Wattleson has won a prize of $250 for a magazine article on how to live comfortably on $1,000 a year."

"Yes; she was telling me a few days ago that she just had to do something to earn a little extra money, as it had become impossible for her and her husband to get along on his $75 a week."

RUSSELL, ILL.

Mr. Corris is still unable to carry the mail.

Bartlett & Strong shipped a carload of stock on Saturday.

Mr. Tim Kelly spent Sunday with his son John at Fox Lake.

The Oak Dale Cemetery society met with Mrs. J. A. Siver on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Colby of Forest Glen spent Sunday with I. O. Colby and family.

Mrs. C. A. Edwards and Mrs. Frank Crawford were Kenosha visitors during the week.

Don't forget the oyster supper at the church Friday evening. A good program is being prepared.

The many friends of Miss Sadie Irving were surprised to hear of her marriage but all extend their best wishes.

The Russell Gun Club is still enjoying the pigeon shooting. At present writing Mr. Hugh Carney holds the honors, breaking twenty-one out of twenty-five.

MILBURN, ILL.

Remember the bazaar on Friday night Jan. 25.

Miss Annie McCredie was home over Sunday.

Mrs. Thom's mother, Mrs. Harris is visiting here.

Mrs. W. B. Stewart spent two days of last week in Chicago.

Mrs. M. Odette and Miss Ladorna Ames visited in Milwaukee this week.

Miss Sadie Irving formerly of this place was married on Tuesday Jan. 15, in Waukegan to Mr. Frank Sevy of Silver Lake. Congratulations.

"I had tried everything for my baby, until Dr. Lyle recommended Cascasweet. I can truthfully say it is the best medicine I ever used for babies. My little baby was a mere skeleton from stomach trouble, so bad that she did not notice anything, but is now entirely well, and we can almost see her grow. Nannie L. Taylor, Bedford Va. Cascasweet is sold by J. H. Swan.

An Optimist.

Hawker—"I'm going to take a vacation now for two weeks."

Walker—"Is that so? Isn't it queer that your employer should let you go now, just at the busiest season of the year?"

Hawker—"O, well, they've got another man in my place. They told me I needn't come back."

Satisfied Sense a Duty.

Although the Australian aborigine has his vendetta it is not always revenge that he seeks. Darwin tells of a native servant of a West Australian magistrate who went one day to his master, saying that one of his wives had died. He must go away, therefore, to a distant tribe and spear a woman to satisfy his sense of duty to the dead woman. "If you do, I'll send you to prison for life," said his master. For a year the man hung about, looking wretched and ill and complaining that he could neither eat nor sleep, as the spirit of his wife haunted him because he had not taken another life for hers. At last he disappeared. A year later he returned in high condition. There was no legal evidence against him, but it was known that he had gone to a distant tribe, had speared a woman to death and, so, as he thought, appeased the spirit of his departed wife.

The Right Name.

Mr. August Sherpe, the popular overseer of the poor, at Fort Madison, Ia. says. Dr. King's New Life Pills are rightly named, they act more agreeably, do more good and make one feel better than any other laxative. Guaranteed to cure biliousness and constipation. 25 cents at J. H. Swan's drug store.

Like to See Names in Print.

Few things give people more pleasure than writing, without remuneration, for the press.—Agnes Reppelion.

When the cold winds dry and crack the skin a box of salve can save much discomfort. In buying salve look for the name on the box to avoid imitations, and be sure you get the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Shopping Politeness.

"Never point, my dear," said the mother, gently.

"But, mamma," objected the little girl, "suppose I don't know the name of the things?"

"Then let the salesman show you all he has in stock until he comes to the article that is desired."

Dear up the complexion, cleans the liver and tone the system. You can best do this by a dose or two of DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Safe, reliable little pills with a reputation. The pills that every one knows. Recommended by J. H. Swan.

Succeeded.

Bacon—"You say Grafton is a successful man?"

Egbert—"He certainly is."

Bacon—"But I understand his business methods are questionable; why then call him a successful man?"

Egbert—"Because he's kept out of jail so far."

Long Talks in London.

Those who sometimes complain of the inadequate telephone facilities of London doubtless do not realize that the metropolitan telephone area is by far the largest city telephone area in the world, covering over 640 square miles, a space in which Paris, Berlin, Vienna, St. Petersburg, New York and Chicago could all be set out with room to spare. The difficulties and the cost of building and maintaining a uniform telephone system at uniform rates in such a vast area, especially without proper facilities for constructing underground conduits for the wires—facilities which have always been refused by the authorities though denied to no other electrical undertaking—are not in the least appreciated by the average telephone user.—London Engineer.

Work is the Law of Life.

Activity is the law of life. Idleness is more wearing than work, and monotony kills more quickly than the healthful excitement of a busy life. One must be doing, and there is much to be done. Carlyle wrote: "Cast forth thy act, thy word, into the ever-living, ever-working universe; it is a seed grain that cannot die; unnoticed to-day, it will be found flourishing as a banyan grove after a thousand years." If you have nothing to do, it should be an easy matter to find plenty to do. Most of us, driven with work, do not have the privilege of doing what we would like to do, but are forced to like what we are forced to do.

Bill Knew Grease.

One day Bill had company to dine with him, and his wife, wishing William to appear well, quietly admonished him to be careful what he said. All went well till Bill got his potatoes well mashed, when he said: "Dolly, pass the grease."

"Why, William," said his wife, "you should call it gravy."

"Wa-al, says Bill, 'I guess if it got on your tablecloth it would be grease.'"

To stop a cold with "Preventics" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the sneeze stage Preventics will head off all colds and grippe and perhaps save you from pneumonia and bronchitis. Preventics are little toothsome candy cure tablets, selling in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin to sneeze try Preventics. They will surely check the cold and please. Sold by all dealers.

Woman, Lovely Woman.

Fair Guest (at wedding)—They say the groom is a bright literary light.

Another—Yes, but she really ought to have married a railway conductor.

Fair Guest—Why, Maud, how you talk! Why should she have married a conductor?

Another—He might teach her how to manage a train.

A Warm One.

Eskimo Sultor—"Yes my love, I have ten sleds, 50 dogs, 100 tons of blubber and—"

Pa Eskimo—"Aurora, tell that young man to stop letting off so much hot air. I'm afraid he'll melt the house."—Puck.

Don't neglect your cough.

Statistics show that in New York City alone over 200 people die every week from consumption.

And most of these consumptives might be living now if they had not neglected the warning cough.

You know how quickly Scott's Emulsion enables you to throw off a cough or cold.
